Supreme Court Case No. 06-AP-34

Judgment Entry

The persons and entities on the attached list have filed affidavits with the Clerk of this Court under R.C. 2701.03 seeking the disqualification of Judges Damian J. Vercillo, William J. Martin, David A. Ellwood, John M. Solovan II, Richard I. Evans, Michael K. Nunner, Jane Bond, Mark C. Fleegle, Dan W. Favreau, Jim D. James, Thomas C. Lee, James M. Ronk, Jon R. Spahr, James L. DeWeese, John W. Nau, Edward E. O'Farrell, Timothy A. Williams, and Mark K. Wiest from acting on any further proceedings in Case Nos. 2003-CV-06-347 and 2006-CV-21669 in the Muskingum Watershed Conservancy Court.

The affiants allege that the judges cannot preside fairly and impartially over further proceedings in these cases because the judges have already voted to impose an assessment on local property owners to fund improvements in the watershed district.

I have carefully examined the allegations in the affidavits, and I find no basis for ordering the disqualification of the eighteen judges on the conservancy court. The affiants may disagree with the judges' earlier rulings in these cases, but a party's disagreement or dissatisfaction with a court's rulings of law, without more, does not demonstrate that the rulings are the result of bias or prejudice. In re Disqualification of Murphy (1988), 36 Ohio St.3d 605. An affidavit of disqualification "is not a vehicle to contest matters of substantive or procedural law." In re

Disqualification of Solovan, 100 Ohio St.3d 1214, 2003-Ohio-5484, ¶ 4. Whether or not the judges' earlier order levying an assessment was proper, that ruling does not evidence bias or prejudice on the part of the judges.

Moreover, the fact that the judges may have issued such an order does not compel their disqualification from further proceedings in the cases. State and federal courts have been virtually unanimous in holding that – absent a showing of actual bias – a judge who presided over prior proceedings involving one or more parties presently before the court is not thereby disqualified from presiding over later proceedings involving the same parties. See, e.g., State v. D'Ambrosio (1993), 67 Ohio St.3d 185, 188 ("A judge need not recuse himself simply because he acquired knowledge of the facts during a prior proceeding"); United Union of Roofers v. Meese (C.A.1, 1987), 823 F.2d 652, 659 ("It is well established . . . that participation in prior proceedings involving the same or similar facts or parties does not in itself constitute grounds for disqualification"). Judges routinely rule on a whole host of issues in a single case over the course of several months or years. Absent some evidence of bias or prejudice, a judge's participation in the early stages of a case does not compel his or her removal from later proceedings in the case.

To be sure, if a judge's words or actions convey the impression that the judge has developed a "hostile feeling or spirit of ill-will," State ex rel. Pratt v. Weygandt (1956), 164 Ohio St. 463, 469, or if the judge has reached a "fixed anticipatory judgment" that will prevent the judge from hearing the case with "an open state of mind . . . governed by the law and the facts," id., then the judge should not remain on the case. There is no evidence before me suggesting any lack of impartiality on the part of the judges on the conservancy court, however.

"Subjective belief of bias is generally not sufficient to support an affidavit of disqualification." In re Disqualification of Lewis, 105 Ohio St.3d 1239, 2004-Ohio-7359, ¶ 7.

Rather, there must be some evidence presented that would cause a "reasonable and objective observer" to "harbor serious doubts" about the judges' impartiality. Id. at ¶ 8. No such evidence has been offered here.

The affidavits appear to be based solely on the affiants' view that judges who have issued preliminary rulings in a case will be unable to approach further proceedings in the case with an open mind. That view – when unsupported by any evidence of bias – is not sufficient to compel a judge's disqualification. As I have said, "[a] judge is presumed to follow the law and not to be biased, and the appearance of bias or prejudice must be compelling to overcome these presumptions." In re Disqualification of George, 100 Ohio St.3d 1241, 2003-Ohio-5489, ¶ 5. Those presumptions have not been overcome in these cases.

For the reasons stated above, the affidavits of disqualification are denied. The cases may proceed before the judges of the Muskingum Watershed Conservancy Court.

Dated this 21ST day of April, 2006.
