Course Description. The intended audience for this training is mediators working with Juvenile and Family Courts. This training will cover content information on adolescent development of young teens (10-14) and older teens (15-18). The information will assume a basic understanding of adolescent development and will focus more on how aspects of development relate to the mediation process and the specific population addressed in this training. Additionally, this training will address how development is affected by family crisis and stress. Participants will learn tips, techniques, and strategies helpful in maintaining neutrality working with children in mediation. This training will also provide a useful model to structure mediation and agreements when working with juvenile offenders, their parents, and other stakeholders.

Pre-requisites: 1) Basic Mediation Training (minimum 12 hours), 2) Uniform Mediation Act Training (minimum of 2 hours). 3) Specialized Family/Divorce Mediation Training (40 hours), and 4) Experience mediating juvenile cases. A form requesting proof of attendance will be emailed on May 28. It must be signed and returned for your registration to be complete.
