Course Description. The purpose of this training is to teach participants how to screen for domestic abuse and to use appropriate procedures for determining when and how to mediate matters that may be before the court when parties may have experienced domestic abuse, such as parenting issues or other matters. Upon successful completion of this training participants will be able to recognize the legal framework that applies to domestic abuse and mediation, recognize the complex nature of domestic abuse and develop sensitivity regarding its impact on parties and their children, distinguish between mediating domestic abuse and mediating other matters where domestic abuse may be a factor, and integrate domestic abuse principles into the process of mediation.

This training is not about how to mediate domestic abuse itself or how to use mediation as a diversion from prosecution of domestic violence.

Who Should Attend

Professionals working with local court dispute resolution services.
