relink.org Increase Awareness of Resources

The Supreme Court of Ohio
Task Force on Reentry
Final Report and Recommendations

Increase Awareness of Resources:

There are many reentry resources available in Ohio state and local levels. However, no centralized system for sharing that information with service providers exists. Ohio should consider adopting a statewide repository of services and practices, such as relink.org, where information would be universally accessible.

...in a Veteran and I found housing using ... I am being released in 32 days and I ... thankful to have a place to go. I was ... when my caseworker showed ... the Veterans search. It made it so much easier to find what I needed"

"Not many people can relate to what us Veterans need. It is different than what others do. I have been telling all of my friends to go to Relink and they can find the help they are looking for."

“ When I left rehab, I knew I was going to need to keep seeing a counselor to help me with all of my past trauma. I found an amazing counselor on Relink.org and they are still my counselor after three years. I feel like I’ve made tons of progress!”

“ I am a caseworker, and Relink.org has completely made my job so much more efficient! I’ve been able to save so much time finding all the resources for the people that I help in one place”

“Relink has so much information in one place. I found resources for every category I needed.”

“ I am a single mom who needed housing and when I looked on Relink.org, I found the numbers of many places to call. I stopped crying, wiped my eyes and made many phone calls and ended up with a place to take me and my kids..”
