STATEMENT OF FACTS

This petition arises from the attempts of Relator, Trevor J. Teagarden (Teagarden), to obtain seven separate and distinct public records from public records custodians at Pickaway Correctional Inst. (PCI), which is where Teagarden, a prisoner, is confined.

Teagarden's petition for a writ of mandamus was filed Dec. 11, 2023 with regard to these requests which have been labeled as Exhibits A, through H, and attached to the Complaint's Appendix. Teagarden hereby incorporates these eight Exhibits that were set forth in the Complaint's Appendix, as Evidence, which plainly demonstrates that his requests were fairly stated, and the responses thereto constitute denials.

Respondents named in this action are: Nacho Igwe, PCI Librarian; Atiboroko Oshobe, PCI Asst. Librarian; and Cora Handley, Activities Therapist. Respondents are public officials as defined by R.C. 149.011(D), and are public records custodians required to "make copies of the requested public record available to the requester at cost and within a reasonable period of time". (See R.C. 149.43(B)(1), attached). Respondents have refused to provide any of the records requested herein.

The eight requests at issue herein are accurately set forth below:

Request #1 (Relator's Complaint Exhibit A), to PCI Library on June 29, 2023, requesting a copy of ODRC Medical Protocol B1, Consultation Referral.

Request #2 (Relator's Complaint Exhibit B), to PCI Library on July 5, 2023, requesting a copy of ODRC Medical Protocol B11.

Request #3 (Relator's Complaint Exhibit C), to PCI Recreation Office on July 11, 2023, requesting a copy of the recreation schedule(s) for all units.

Request #4 (Relator's Complaint Exhibit D), to PCI Library on July 13, 2023, requesting a copy of the index of all ODRC Medical Protocols.

Request #5 (Relator's Complaint Exhibit E), to the PCI Librarian on July 29, 2023, requesting a copy of the ODRC Policy Index.

Request #6 (Relator's Complaint Exhibit F), to the PCI Recreation Office on Aug. 7, 2023, requesting a copy of the August Recreation Schedule for all units

And, as explained at ¶ 16, of the Complaint, the 7th and 8th requests involve the same record.

Request #7 (Relator's Complaint Exhibit G), to Asst. Librarian Oshobe on Aug. 26, 2023, requesting a copy of the sign in / log sheet for the Lexis Nexis terminals on Aug. 24th and 25th.

Request #8 (Relator's Complaint Exhibit H), to Librarian Igwe on Aug. 26, 2023, requesting a copy of the sign in / log sheet for the Lexis Nexis terminals on Aug. 24th and 25th.

All evidence appended in the Complaint has been resubmitted with new exhibits, and a Second Affidavit of Verification, as: EVIDENCE OF RELATOR TREVOR J. TEAGARDEN.

RESPONSES

The response to Request #1 makes apparent that Respondent Oshobe understands that Relator wants ODRC medical protocol, she knows he is present in the Library, but rather than printing the document and providing it to him she chooses to pretend that she will accommodate some other time. This is deception. Oshobe is well aware that she can not deny these records, and thus, does so artfully.

When Relator (and other prisoners), request ODRC policies or protocols VERBALLY, they would get any number of abusive responses ranging from; I'm not going to help you to file your grievances, to; get your ass out of my face.

The response to Request #2 indicates that Oshobe is once again looking directly at Relator and could simply print the documents and call him over to pay for them by signing a "cashslip" which are also under the control of employees. However, she instead chooses not to provide the documents or allow for allocation of payment.

The response to Request #4 suggests that Relator could simply go into the section of the Library devoted to the law. This, Oshobe knows is not true.

In an attempt to begin to obtain records without complaining, which normally results in retaliatory conduct reports, Relator made Request #5 directly to the Librarian, Igwe. She attempts to shift her duty as a public records custodian onto the prisoners who work as aides in the Library.

Igwe knows very well that these policies, protocols, and indices are not in the Law Library, that if her hand picked prisoner aides had any such ODRC record they would not share it, and furthermore, that Relator was not requesting to review the property of someone else, but to obtain copies to have and possess.

Requests #7, and #8, were sent to respondents Oshobe and Igwe separately, but insearch of the same record. Examination of the responses thereto is telling. Both respondents seek to manipulate the request for a copy of the record into a request to be given the actual record itself. Further, if the record were available to Relator it would contradict the dates that they want to wrongly represent as fact in a situation of one of their aides lying and manipulating. Furthermore , as Request #8 (Exhibit H), points out, these records are being manipulated with white-out regularly and this has the potential to give the appearance that someone were guilty of misusing or damaging Library equipment while they were not even present (as the aide was attempting to do).

Requests #3, and #6 (Exhibits C and F), were made to the creator of the records, Respondent Handly, who quite simply didn't feel as though she has a duty under law to provide copies, which she does.

Again, none of the requested copies has yet been provided. Relator requested a writ of mandamus on December 11,2023, and twenty-three days later, was attacked by two inmate Library aides, without provocation, while leaving the Library. Relator asserts that the attack was a direct response to his having filed the complaint with this Court.

MACHINATION OF LIBRARY RESPONDENTS

The following facts are stated upon the Relator's own personal knowledge.

Following the January 3, 2024 attack, Relator was placed in solitary confinement for weeks, and found guilty of fighting. Even though there is a video of the attack, his attackers were found NOT guilty and allowed to return to work in the Library.

The Warden affirmed Relator's guilt on appeal, subjecting him to months of sanctions/restrictions.

Relator then appealed the Warden's Decision to the ODRC Legal Services Dept. which reversed the charge and issued an opinion condemning the guilty finding procedurally and factually, stating: "Teagarden is not guilty". (See Legal Services Decision on Appeal - Exhibit J).

PCI's mailroom also did not deliver / serve Relator with his copy of Respondent's motion to dismiss the Complaint that was filed on January 4th, until some 48 hrs. before a response was due making any attempt to respond from solitary confinement futile. (See Legal Mail Log - Exhibit I).

Relator asserts that the issues arising after the filing of the Complaint are not merely coincidence. Exhibits I, and J, stand as clear acts of unfair treatment and are in fact responses to the Complaint.

Upon his release from solitary confinement, Relator's tablet that gives him access to Lexis Nexis was taken without cause, by staff. Then, on January 17th, his Word files in the Law Library were erased.

The next day, Relator was again attacked and beaten while he lay in his bed. Though the attack occurred on video and the attacker's identity is known, PCI staff has not held him accountable.

On March 13th, this Court denied respondents' motion to dismiss the Complaint, and granted an alternative writ (see Appendix). That same evening, at approximately 8:05 PM, Relator was again attacked, this time with a weapon, and told to stay out of the Library. The injuries required transport to Ohio State University Hospital for CT scans of the head and neck as well as to close multiple lacerations. Although the attack was recorded on video, no one has been held accountable.

RESPONDENTS' ANSWER

On March 27th, respondents filed their Answer to the Complaint. In the Answer respondents flatly decline to respond to ¶1, of the Complaint, which is the very basis of the Complaint. ¶1 states (in part): "Relator, . . . brings this original action in mandamus against respondents for failing to provide requested public records." Respondents state only: "Paragraph 1 does not contain a factual representation which requires a response." (Id. Respondents' Answer ¶1). It is, however, a fact, that respondents have failed, and continue to fail to provide any of the records requested. Respondents further deny all allegations in ¶2 of the Complaint (Id. Respondents' Answer ¶2). In doing so they deny the existence of Exhibits A through H.

ARGUMENT

As a matter of Law;

A "request by any person . . . shall be promptly prepared and made available for inspection to the requester at all reasonable times during regular business hours." R.C. § 149.43(B)(1).

With respect to Relator's Requests numbered; 1,2,4,5,7, and 8, (those sent to the P.C.I. Library), Relator submits Exhibit K, into Evidence confirming that respondents are in fact the public records custodians designated by the Warden to "provide copies" to prisoners.

Having established that these respondents are public records custodians, the above section of law unambiguously requires them to "promptly prepare" such copies "at all reasonable times".

Rather than accommodating prisoners with the prison policies that are necessary for understanding the manner in which the prison and its employee's should function, prison officials would clearly rather give prisoners the run-around with statements such as; "You can stop by the [L]aw Library whenever you can to review [what] you are requesting." (Id.Exhibit A). This, following the admission that Relator was "in the Law Library as I am responding to your kite". This response is neither intended to "promptly prepare" or "ma[k]e available for inspection" what was being requested. What it is intended to do is mock a requester with the fact that the Respondent could have called on the Relator to walk over and resolve the matter, but instead chose to lie about the availability of the requested records. This becomes even more plain when one considers the same Respondent's response to another request (Exhibit B), which refers him back to the previous response as if to say - you'll get nothing from me.

A third response to a request (Exhibit D), pivots back to - it's "in the main law library", as if it is available (which it is not), but this is still not in keeping with the law which further states that a "person responsible for public records shall make copies of the requested public record available at cost and within a reasonable period of time" R.C. § 149.43 (B)(1).

Relator's persistence in seeking public records and moving on to yet another separate custodian demonstrates that he was acting in good faith, contrary to the assertion of the respondents' counsel.

Exhibits A, B, and D, discussed on the previous page were responses from Respondent Oshobe. They are otherwise referred to as Requests 1,2, and 4.

Now, addressing Requests 5 and 7, (Exhibits E and G), responded to by Librarian Igwe, the run-around becomes "ask the law library workers to give it to you" (Exhibit E), and when one of her Law Library aides is caught in a lie, the only retreat becomes, "[what] you are asking for belongs to the [L]aw [L]ibrary and we cannot give it to you." (Exhibit G). Igwe knows her duty to provide records, knows that prisoners are not custodians of Department records, and, 'Library property' is public property.

Respondent Oshobe's Response in Exhibit H, is nearly identical to Igwe's Response in Exhibit G. So close are they, in fact, that it is obvious that they collaborated on some level in their outright denial. Regarding the Request made in Exhibits G, and H, (which are for the same record), the law is clear;

"If a request is ultimately denied, in part or in whole, the public office or person responsible for the requested public record shall provide the requester with an explanation, including legal authority, setting forth why the request was denied." R.C. § 149.43 (B)(3).

Igwe and Oshobe's assertions that the Log Sheet requested is Library property and therefore cannot be provided, is, ironically, the very reason that copies of such must be provided.

Now, regarding Requests 3, and 6, (Exhibits C and F), that were sent to Respondent Handley, P.C.I. Activity Therapist, who is the creator of the requested records, the custodian of them, and responsible for distribution of them, their denial to Relator has no basis in law and is premised on the fact that they are available to be viewed in a display case. This is a failure to comply with the law. This is so because; R.C. 149.43(A)(1) provides that a public record is a record kept by any public office, unless the record is specifically exempted from that definition by the statute or the release of that record is prohibited by law.

If a public records request is denied in whole or in part, the public office is required to provide the requester with an explanation for the denial, including legal authority. R.C. 149.43(B)(3). Respondents have no legal reasoning for denying Relator the records he has requested.

CONCLUSION

Relator has a clear legal right to receive the copies of the records that he has requested. He respectfully requests that this Court grant a writ that provides the same and provides the full damages and costs allowed by law. And, any other relief this Court deems just.

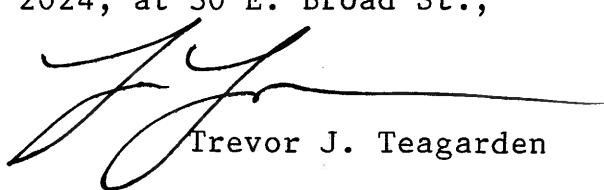

Respectfully submitted,

(B)

(1) Upon request by any person and subject to division (B)(8) of this section, all public records responsive to the request shall be promptly prepared and made available for inspection to the requester at all reasonable times during regular business hours. Subject to division (B)(8) of this section, upon request by any person, a public office or person responsible for public records shall make copies of the requested public record available to the requester at cost and within a reasonable period of time. If a public record contains information that is exempt from the duty to permit public inspection or to copy the public record, the public office or the person responsible for the public record shall make available all of the information within the public record that is not exempt. When making that public record available for public inspection or copying that public record, the public office or the person responsible for the public record shall notify the requester of any redaction or make the redaction plainly visible. A redaction shall be deemed a denial of a request to inspect or copy the redacted information, except if federal or state law authorizes or requires a public office to make the redaction. When the auditor of state receives a request to inspect or to make a copy of a record that was provided to the auditor of state for purposes of an audit, but the original public office has asserted to the auditor of state that the record is not a public record, the auditor of state may handle the requests by directing the requestor to the original public office that provided the record to the auditor of state.

(2) To facilitate broader access to public records, a public office or the person responsible for public records shall organize and maintain public records in a manner that they can be made available for inspection or copying in accordance with division (B) of this section. A public office also shall have available a copy of its current records retention schedule at a location readily available to the public. If a requester makes an ambiguous or overly broad request or has difficulty in making a request for copies or inspection of public records under this section such that the public office or the person responsible for the requested public record cannot reasonably identify what public records are being requested, the public office or the person responsible for the requested public record may deny the request but shall provide the requester with an opportunity to revise the request by informing the requester of the manner in which records are maintained by the public office and accessed in the ordinary course of the public office’s or person’s duties.

(3) If a request is ultimately denied, in part or in whole, the public office or the person responsible for the requested public record shall provide the requester with an explanation, including legal authority, setting forth why the request was denied. If the initial request was provided in writing, the explanation also shall be provided to the requester in writing. The explanation shall not preclude the public office or the person responsible for the requested public record from relying upon additional reasons or legal authority in defending an action commenced under division (C) of this section.

(4) Unless specifically required or authorized by state or federal law or in accordance with division (B) of this section, no public office or person responsible for public records may limit or condition the availability of public records by requiring disclosure of the requester’s identity or the intended use of the requested public record. Any requirement that the requester disclose the requester’s identity or the intended use of the requested public record constitutes a denial of the request.

(5) A public office or person responsible for public records may ask a requester to make the request in writing, may ask for the requester’s identity, and may inquire about the intended use of the information requested, but may do so only after disclosing to the requester that a written request is not mandatory, that the requester may decline to reveal the requester’s identity or the intended use, and when a written request or disclosure of the identity or intended use would benefit the requester by enhancing the ability of the public office or person responsible for public records to identify, locate, or deliver the public records sought by the requester.

(6) If any person requests a copy of a public record in accordance with division (B) of this section, the public office or person responsible for the public record may require the requester to pay in advance the cost involved in providing the copy of the public record in accordance with the choice made by the requester under this division. The public office or the person responsible for the public record shall permit the requester to choose to have the public record duplicated upon paper, upon the same medium upon which the public office or person responsible for the public record keeps it, or upon any other medium upon which the public office or person responsible for the public record determines that it reasonably can be duplicated as an integral part of the normal operations of the public office or person responsible for the public record. When the requester makes a choice under this division, the public office or person responsible for the public record shall provide a copy of it in accordance with the choice made by the requester. Nothing in this section requires a public office or person responsible for the public record to allow the requester of a copy of the public record to make the copies of the public record.

(a) Upon a request made in accordance with division (B) of this section and subject to division (B)(6) of this section, a public office or person responsible for public records shall transmit a copy of a public record to any person by United States mail or by any other means of delivery or transmission within a reasonable period of time after receiving the request for the copy. The public office or person responsible for the public record may require the person making the request to pay in advance the cost of postage if the copy is transmitted by United States mail or the cost of delivery if the copy is transmitted other than by United States mail, and to pay in advance the costs incurred for other supplies used in the mailing, delivery, or transmission.

(b) Any public office may adopt a policy and procedures that it will follow in transmitting, within a reasonable period of time after receiving a request, copies of public records by United States mail or by any other means of delivery or transmission pursuant to division (B)(7) of this section. A public office that adopts a policy and procedures under division (B)(7) of this section shall comply with them in performing its duties under that division.

(c) In any policy and procedures adopted under division (B)(7) of this section:

(i) A public office may limit the number of records requested by a person that the office will physically deliver by United States mail or by another delivery service to ten per month, unless the person certifies to the office in writing that the person does not intend to use or forward the requested records, or the information contained in them, for commercial purposes;

(ii) A public office that chooses to provide some or all of its public records on a web site that is fully accessible to and searchable by members of the public at all times, other than during acts of God outside the public office's control or maintenance, and that charges no fee to search, access, download, or otherwise receive records provided on the web site, may limit to ten per month the number of records requested by a person that the office will deliver in a digital format, unless the requested records are not provided on the web site and unless the person certifies to the office in writing that the person does not intend to use or forward the requested records, or the information contained in them, for commercial purposes.

(iii) For purposes of division (B)(7) of this section, "commercial" shall be narrowly construed and does not include reporting or gathering news, reporting or gathering information to assist citizen oversight or understanding of the operation or activities of government, or nonprofit educational research.

(8) A public office or person responsible for public records is not required to permit a person who is incarcerated pursuant to a criminal conviction or a juvenile adjudication to inspect or to obtain a copy of any public record concerning a criminal investigation or prosecution or concerning what would be a criminal investigation or prosecution if the subject of the investigation or prosecution were an adult, unless the request to inspect or to obtain a copy of the record is for the purpose of acquiring information that is subject to release as a public record under this section and the judge who imposed the sentence or made the adjudication with respect to the person, or the judge's successor in office, finds that the information sought in the public record is necessary to support what appears to be a justiciable claim of the person.

(a) Upon written request made and signed by a journalist, a public office, or person responsible for public records, having custody of the records of the agency employing a specified designated public service worker shall disclose to the journalist the address of the actual personal residence of the designated public service worker and, if the designated public service worker's spouse, former spouse, or child is employed by a public office, the name and address of the employer of the designated public service worker's spouse, former spouse, or child. The request shall include the journalist's name and title and the name and address of the journalist's employer and shall state that disclosure of the information sought would be in the public interest.

(b) Division (B)(9)(a) of this section also applies to journalist requests for:

- (i) Customer information maintained by a municipally owned or operated public utility, other than social security numbers and any private financial information such as credit reports, payment methods, credit card numbers, and bank account information;
- (ii) Information about minors involved in a school vehicle accident as provided in division (A)(1)(gg) of this section, other than personal information as defined in section 149.45 of the Revised Code.
- (c) As used in division (B)(9) of this section, "journalist" means a person engaged in, connected with, or employed by any news medium, including a newspaper, magazine, press association, news agency, or wire service, a radio or television station, or a similar medium, for the purpose of gathering, processing, transmitting, compiling, editing, or disseminating information for the general public.

(10) Upon a request made by a victim, victim's attorney, or victim's representative, as that term is used in section 2930.02 of the Revised Code, a public office or person responsible for public records shall transmit a copy of a depiction of the victim as described in division (A)(1)(ii) of this section to the victim, victim's attorney, or victim's representative.

(C)

(1) If a person allegedly is aggrieved by the failure of a public office or the person responsible for public records to promptly prepare a public record and to make it available to the person for inspection in accordance with division (B) of this section or by any other failure of a public office or the person responsible for public records to comply with an obligation in accordance with division (B) of this section, the person allegedly aggrieved may do only one of the following, and not both:

(a) File a complaint with the clerk of the court of claims or the clerk of the court of common pleas under section 2743.75 of the Revised Code;

(b) Commence a mandamus action to obtain a judgment that orders the public office or the person responsible for the public record to comply with division (B) of this section, that awards court costs and reasonable attorney's fees to the person that instituted the mandamus action, and, if applicable, that includes an order fixing statutory damages under division (C)(2) of this section. The mandamus action may be commenced in the court of common pleas of the county in which division (B) of this section allegedly was not complied with, in the supreme court pursuant to its original jurisdiction under Section 2 of Article IV, Ohio Constitution, or in the court of appeals for the appellate district in which division (B) of this section allegedly was not complied with pursuant to its original jurisdiction under Section 3 of Article IV, Ohio Constitution.

(2) If a requester transmits a written request by hand delivery, electronic submission, or certified mail to inspect or receive copies of any public record in a manner that fairly describes the public record or class of public records to the public office or person responsible for the requested public records, except as otherwise provided in this section, the requester shall be entitled to recover the amount of statutory damages set forth in this division if a court determines that the public office or the person responsible for public records failed to comply with an obligation in accordance with division (B) of this section. The amount of statutory damages shall be fixed at one hundred dollars for each business day during which the public office or person responsible for the requested public records failed to comply with an obligation in accordance with division (B) of this section, beginning with the day on which the requester files a mandamus action to recover statutory damages, up to a maximum of one thousand dollars. The award of statutory damages shall not be construed as a penalty, but as compensation for injury arising from lost use of the requested information. The existence of this injury shall be conclusively presumed. The award of statutory damages shall be in addition to all other remedies authorized by this section.

The court may reduce an award of statutory damages or not award statutory damages if the court determines both of the following:

(a) That, based on the ordinary application of statutory law and case law as it existed at the time of the conduct or threatened conduct of the public office or person responsible for the requested public records that allegedly constitutes a failure to comply with an obligation in accordance with division (B) of this section and that was the basis of the mandamus action, a well-informed public office or person responsible for the requested public records reasonably would believe that the conduct or threatened conduct of the public office or person responsible for the requested public records did not constitute a failure to comply with an obligation in accordance with division (B) of this section;

(b) That a well-informed public office or person responsible for the requested public records reasonably would believe that the conduct or threatened conduct of the public office or person responsible for the requested public records would serve the public policy that underlies the authority that is asserted as permitting that conduct or threatened conduct.

(3) In a mandamus action filed under division (C)(1) of this section, the following apply:

(i) If the court orders the public office or the person responsible for the public record to comply with division (B) of this section, the court shall determine and award to the relator all court costs, which shall be construed as remedial and not punitive.

(ii) If the court makes a determination described in division (C)(3)(b)(iii) of this section, the court shall determine and award to the relator all court costs, which shall be construed as remedial and not punitive.

(b) If the court renders a judgment that orders the public office or the person responsible for the public record to comply with division (B) of this section or if the court determines any of the following, the court may award reasonable attorney's fees to the relator, subject to division (C)(4) of this section:

(i) The public office or the person responsible for the public records failed to respond affirmatively or negatively to the public records request in accordance with the time allowed under division (B) of this section.

(ii) The public office or the person responsible for the public records promised to permit the relator to inspect or receive copies of the public records requested within a specified period of time but failed to fulfill that promise within that specified period of time.

(iii) The public office or the person responsible for the public records acted in bad faith when the office or person voluntarily made the public records available to the relator for the first time after the relator commenced the mandamus action, but before the court issued any order concluding whether or not the public office or person was required to comply with division (B) of this section. No discovery may be conducted on the issue of the alleged bad faith of the public office or person responsible for the public records. This division shall not be construed as creating a presumption that the public office or the person responsible for the public records acted in bad faith when the office or person voluntarily made the public records available to the relator for the first time after the relator commenced the mandamus action, but before the court issued any order described in this division.

(c) The court shall not award attorney's fees to the relator if the court determines both of the following:

(i) That, based on the ordinary application of statutory law and case law as it existed at the time of the conduct or threatened conduct of the public office or person responsible for the requested public records that allegedly constitutes a failure to comply with an obligation in accordance with division (B) of this section and that was the basis of the mandamus action, a well-informed public office or person responsible for the requested public records reasonably would believe that the conduct or threatened conduct of the public office or person responsible for the requested public records did not constitute a failure to comply with an obligation in accordance with division (B) of this section;

(ii) That a well-informed public office or person responsible for the requested public records reasonably would believe that the conduct or threatened conduct of the public office or person responsible for the requested public records would serve the public policy that underlies the authority that is asserted as permitting that conduct or threatened conduct.

(4) All of the following apply to any award of reasonable attorney's fees awarded under division (C)(3)(b) of this section:

(a) The fees shall be construed as remedial and not punitive.

(b) The fees awarded shall not exceed the total of the reasonable attorney's fees incurred before the public record was made available to the relator and the fees described in division (C)(4)(c) of this section.

(c) Reasonable attorney's fees shall include reasonable fees incurred to produce proof of the reasonableness and amount of the fees and to otherwise litigate entitlement to the fees.

(d) The court may reduce the amount of fees awarded if the court determines that, given the factual circumstances involved with the specific public records request, an alternative means should have been pursued to more effectively and efficiently resolve the dispute that was subject to the mandamus action filed under division (C)(1) of this section.

(5) If the court does not issue a writ of mandamus under division (C) of this section and the court determines at that time that the bringing of the mandamus action was frivolous conduct as defined in division (A) of section 2323.51 of the Revised Code, the court may award to the public office all court costs, expenses, and reasonable attorney's fees, as determined by the court.

(D) Chapter 1347. of the Revised Code does not limit the provisions of this section.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, the policy may not limit the number of public records that the public office will make available to a single person, may not limit the number of public records that it will make available during a fixed period of time, and may not establish a fixed period of time before it will respond to a request for inspection or copying of public records, unless that period is less than eight hours.

The public office shall distribute the public records policy adopted by the public office under this division to the employee of the public office who is the records custodian or records manager or otherwise has custody of the records of that office. The public office shall require that employee to acknowledge receipt of the copy of the public records policy. The public office shall create a poster that describes its public records policy and shall post the poster in a conspicuous place in the public office and in all locations where the public office has branch offices. The public office may post its public records policy on the internet web site of the public office if the public office maintains an internet web site. A public office that has established a manual or handbook of its general policies and procedures for all employees of the public office shall include the public records policy of the public office in the manual or handbook.

"Bulk commercial special extraction request" does not include a request by a person who gives assurance to the bureau that the person making the request does not intend to use or forward the requested copies for surveys, marketing, solicitation, or resale for commercial purposes.

(c) "Commercial" means profit-seeking production, buying, or selling of any good, service, or other product.

(d) "Special extraction costs" means the cost of the time spent by the lowest paid employee competent to perform the task, the actual amount paid to outside private contractors employed by the bureau, or the actual cost incurred to create computer programs to make the special extraction. "Special extraction costs" include any charges paid to a public agency for computer or records services.

(3) For purposes of divisions (F)(1) and (2) of this section, "surveys, marketing, solicitation, or resale for commercial purposes" shall be narrowly construed and does not include reporting or gathering news, reporting or gathering information to assist citizen oversight or understanding of the operation or activities of government, or nonprofit educational research.

(1) Any portion of a body-worn camera or dashboard camera recording described in divisions (A)(17)(b) to (h) of this section may be released by consent of the subject of the recording or a representative of that person, as specified in those divisions, only if either of the following applies:

(a) The recording will not be used in connection with any probable or pending criminal proceedings;

(b) The recording has been used in connection with a criminal proceeding that was dismissed or for which a judgment has been entered pursuant to Rule 32 of the Rules of Criminal Procedure, and will not be used again in connection with any probable or pending criminal proceedings.

If the court considering the request determines that the filing articulates by clear and convincing evidence that the public interest in the recording substantially outweighs privacy interests and other interests asserted to deny release, the court shall order the public office to release the recording.
